WITHDRAWN – by email dated 21 March 2022

Commented [ 4 ]: New Zealand Transport Agency - ENV-2020-CHC-000056
New Permitted Activity and associated standards:
2.x. Permitted Activities 2.X.1 Discharge of stormwater to land
2.X Standards that apply to specific permitted activities 2.X.1
The discharge must not cause flooding on land other than land within the Floodway Zone or a drainage channel; 2.X.2 The discharge must not contain stormwater from an area where a hazardous substance is stored unless: (a) the hazardous substance cannot enter the stormwater; (b) there is an interceptor system in place to collect any hazardous contaminant or diverted contaminated stormwater to a trade waste system. 2.X.3 For any discharge onto land in circumstances which may result in a contaminant entering water, the discharge must not have, after reasonable mixing, any of the following effects on water quality: (a) the production of conspicuous oil or grease films, scums or foams, or floatable or suspended materials; (b) any conspicuous change in the colour or visual clarity; (c) any emission of objectionable odour; (d) the rendering of fresh water unsuitable for consumption by farm animals; (e) any significant adverse effects on aquatic life. (In the alternative, amend Rule 2.16.3 as follows: Discharge of stormwater to water and land. And, amend standard 2.17.3.5 as follows: The discharge must not cause flooding on land other than land within the Floodway Zone or drainage channel.)

Volumes 1 and 2 contain a combination of the regional policy statement, regional plan, regional coastal plan and district plan provisions. Section 80 of the RMA requires the Council to identify within a combined document the provisions that are the regional policy statement, the regional coastal plan, the regional plan or the district plan. The Council has identified each provision in the MEP with one of the following notations: RPS (regional policy statement), C (regional coastal plan), R (regional plan) or D (district plan). In some cases, policy may have both an RPS notation and a plan notation.
